FOREWORD

Eleven years ago, Ann Poindexter Couey of Winchester, Kentucky, compiled and published Clark County Kentucky 1850 Census and Mortality Schedules 1852-1861.

This project was done as her contribution to the American Revolution Bicentennial 1776-1976 as a member of the Clark County Bicentennial Committee.

Mrs. Couey sold and distributed many copies of this book in connection with the bicentennial celebration. Of the original printing, there remain twenty-seven unbound copies. Due to impaired eyesight, Mrs. Couey has turned the remaining copies over to me for binding and distribution.

Mrs. Couey has made a considerable contribution to genealogical research in general and to individual research by those specifically interested in Clark County, Kentucky.

I take no credit for the merits of this compilation and feel privileged to complete so noble a task.

PREFACE

Clark County, Kentucky, was formed in December, 1792, from Bourbon and Fayette Counties. The 1850 Census of Clark County was copied line by line from microfilm of the original population schedules.

The enumeration was done in the months of August and September, 1850. District #1 was done by Thomas Kohlass; District #2 was done by William C. Sympton. Some of the initials were very difficult to read, such as J, S, L, and others. In some cases, when a name or initial could not be verified by checking court records, a question mark follows the initial or the name in question. Abbreviations used were "B" for black and "M" for mulatto.

Maiden names, taken from the Marriage Bonds of Clark County, Kentucky, by Dr. George F. Doyle, are enclosed in parentheses below the surname and just preceding the given name of the wife. Where a difference in spelling appeared, a comparison of the census record with the marriage bond is given on pages 170-173 of this booklet.

The first section of the mortality schedules was copied, by permission, from the Kentucky Historical Society's records. The names and dates were copied exactly as they appeared in the printed copy. The cause of death was omitted due to lack of space.

The second section of the mortality schedules, pages 180-186, records the death of children under fifteen years of age. This is for the same period as the first schedule but was not included in the Historical Society's list. This section was copied from microfilm at the University of Kentucky, Special Collections.

A surname index and a map of Clark County are included at the end of this booklet.

Acknowledgments:

The Kentucky Historical Society for the use of their records.

Miss Kathryn Owen, Clark County historian and genealogist, for her valuable assistance.

The staff of the Winchester Public Library for the use of their microfilm reader.

A special word of appreciation to my husband, Ralph R. Couey, for his help, patience and understanding, during the printing of this booklet.

This publication is my contribution to the bicentennial celebration, and as a member of the Clark County Bicentennial Committee, I submit it with the hope that it will prove helpful to others who do genealogical research.

CORRECTIONS and NOTES

Census Page	Family Number
----------------	------------------

76	- 615 Bayes, should be Bays
131	- 379 Quinn, should be Guinn
157	- 593 McAllister, should be McCallister

The names Parrish and Quisenberry were sometimes spelled Parish and Quisenbery in the census. In every record checked in the Clark County Clerk's Office (and there were many) Parrish and Quisenberry as they appear in this sentence.

On census page 171, Comparison of Marriage Bonds and Census Records, Family #63, you will note that the bride's name is listed as Pearsall and the Surety as Piersall. This occurs in many records.

Where there was any doubt, all names were checked against deeds, wills, marriage records, and tax lists. This process involved as much time as the actual copying of the census.
